- Selection of well accepted valuation methodology/(ies) as considered appropriate by us.

VI. STANDARD COMPLIANCE AND VALUATION BASIS

I estimated the frequency of trading during 240 Trading Days preceding the Relevant Date, i.e., February 03rd, 2023 and have determined the shares to be frequently traded in terms of Regulation 164(5) of SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018. As per para 164(4) of SEBI's ICDR Regulation,

"A preferential issue of specified securities to qualified institutional buyers, not exceeding five in number, shall be made at a price not less than the 10 trading days volume weighted average prices of the related equity shares quoted on a recognised stock exchange preceding the relevant date."

Further as per regulation 166A(1)

"Any preferential issue, which may result in a change in control or allotment of more than five per cent. of the post issue fully diluted share capital of the issuer, to an allottee or to allottees acting in concert, shall require a valuation report from an independent registered valuer and consider the same for determining the price":

Provided that the floor price, in such cases, shall be higher of the floor price determined under sub-regulation (1), (2) or (4) of regulation 164, as the case may be, or the price determined under the valuation report from the independent registered valuer or the price determined in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association of the issuer, if applicable:

Provided further that if any proposed preferential issue is likely to result in a change in control of the issuer, the valuation report from the registered valuer shall also cover guidance on control premium which shall be computed over and above the price determined in terms of the first proviso:"

VII. VALUATION METHODOLOGY

The fair value of equity shares have been arrived based on the various approaches / methods explained below and various qualitative factors relevant to the Company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the business of the Company, having regard to information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

There are primarily three approaches in valuation (viz., Asset Approach, Income Approach and Market Approach). For any valuation, all the approaches may not be relevant and ,therefore, will not give a fair estimate of value. Hence, the approach most suitable for that specific business / company must be applied in the valuation exercise, based on the experience and common practices adopted by valuers.

According to IVS 104 "Fair Value is the estimated amount for which an asset or liability should exchange on the Valuation Date between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm's length transaction, after proper marketing and where the parties had each acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion".

I have adopted internationally accepted valuation standards and approaches in delivering my valuation conclusion. There are several principal valuation approaches under International Valuation Standards, of which I have considered only those approaches to the extent of its applicability and relevance in this case

Various approaches generally adopted in valuation are as under:

1. Income Approach: Profit Earning Capacity Value (PECV) Method;
2. Market Approach: Market Price Method;
3. Market Approach: Comparable Companies' Multiple Method; and
4. Asset Approach: Net Asset Value Method;

I have considered the Income Approach (i.e. Profit Earning Capacity Value Method) and Market Approach (i.e. Market Price Method and Comparable Companies' Multiples (CCM) Method) for valuation of JKTIL.

Income Approach - Profit Earning Capacity Value Method (PECV) : Profit-earning capacity value is a business valuation method that estimates the value of a company based on its ability to generate future profits. The profit-earning capacity value approach is based on the principle that the value of a business is directly related to its ability to generate income or cash flows in the future.

This method of valuation presumes the continuity of the business and uses the past earnings to arrive at an estimate of future maintainable profits. For the purpose of the calculating PECV of shares, commonly accepted approach is to capitalize average of past earnings, at an appropriate rate of capitalization, to arrive at the fair value per share.

In the present valuation analysis, I have applied this method. However, I have given NIL weight to this method, as price calculated in this working doesn't represent the actual earning potential of the company.

Market Approach – Market Price (MP) method: Under this method, the value of shares of a company is determined by taking the average of the market capitalization of the equity shares of such companies as quoted on a recognized stock exchange over reasonable periods of time where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in an active market, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the market price. The equity shares of JKTIL are listed on the BSE Limited and National Stock Exchange of India Limited and are traded frequently (based on the assessment as per SEBI guidelines to determine whether the shares frequently traded or not) . In these circumstances the share prices observed on NSE over a reasonable period (i.e 180 Days prior to the relevant date) have been considered for arriving at the fair value per equity share of JKTIL under the Market Price method.

Market Approach - Comparable Companies' Quoted Multiples (CCM) method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares / business of a company by applying the derived market multiple based on market quotations of comparable public / listed companies, in an active market, possessing attributes similar to the business of such company - to the relevant financial parameter of the company / business. This valuation is based on the principle that such market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances. In the present valuation analysis, I have considered CCM method (using Trailing Twelve Months EV/EBITDA Multiple) for arriving the value per equity share of JKTIL.

Asset Approach – Net Asset Value (NAV) method: Under this approach, the net asset value method is considered, which is based on the underlying net assets and liabilities. In the present valuation analysis, I have applied this method. However, I have given NIL weight to this method, as asset doesn't represent the earning potential of the company.

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined hereinabove, I have given equal weight to MP method and CCM method to estimate the value of equity shares of JKTIL.

VIII. Conclusion of Value

The Calculation of Concluded value per share is presented as below:

JK Tyre & Industries Limited Calculation of concluded fair value per share
Particular	Value Per Share (INR) (A)	Weight (B)	Weight Value (A*B)
Market Approach - CCM Method	188.86	50%	94.43
Market Approach - Market Price Method (180 days)	169.63	50%	84.82
Assets Approach - NAV Method	118.74	0%	-
Income Approach - PECV Method	84.33	0%	-
Concluded Value Per Share (INR)			179.24

As per first proviso of Regulation 166A(1) the floor price for preferential allotment shall be higher of fair value concluded or price calculated in term of regulation 164(4).

Calculation of price as per regulation 164(4)

JK TYRE & INDUSTRIES LIMITED Value in term of regulation 164(4)
No. of trading Days	Total Volume Traded	Total Turnover Traded (INR)	Volume Weighted Average Price in (INR)
10 days	14,867,819	2,469,395,604	166.09
Concluded Value (INR)			166.09

Hence the concluded floor value as per proviso one to regulation 166A(1) is:

JK TYRE & INDUSTRIES LIMITED Floor Price as per first proviso one to Regulation 166A (1)
Particular	Amount (INR)
Fair Value	179.24
Value as per 164(4)	166.09
Concluded Value - higher of above
	179.24

Further as per second proviso to regulation 166A(1) if the proposed preferential issue is likely to result in a change in control of the issuer, the valuation report from the registered valuer shall also cover guidance on control premium, which shall be computed over and above the price determined in terms of the first proviso.

The management has informed that the proposed issue of equity shares shall be made to qualified institutional buyers not exceeding 5 and will not result in change of control hence the second proviso isn't applicable.

Therefore, the floor price of equity shares as per regulation 166A(1) of SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosures Requirement) Regulations, 2018 and subsequent amendments thereto of JKTIL is estimated ₹ 179.24 per share.
